

The Institute of Administrative Sciences of Ivane Javakishvili Tbilisi State University regularly conduct forums in a public discussion way, which covers multiple topics about current issues of Public administration. The aim of the forum is to build a connection between scientists and practitioners to discuss and solve different pressing issues about given topics. It is a base of finding the most suitable way for problem solving and outlining the future prospects.

10th Forum of the Institute of Administrative Sciences will be held

On 1st of December, 2016, First block of TSU, room 006, at 15:30

On the topic:

Public Service Ethics: Perspectives of Challenges and Reforms.

Among the participants are representatives of Academic societies, as well as servants of public structures, nongovernmental organizations, which work at current topic.

German expert professor Hans Joachim Rieger, director of the German Union of Public Servants Academy, will also take part in the forum.

Agenda

15:30 Reception

16:00 Opening Forum

Prof. Irakli Burduli, the Dean of the faculty of Law, Chairman of board of the Institute of Administrative Sciences

Prof. Giorgi Khubua, Academical Director of the Institute of Administrative Sciences

16:15 Lecture: Servants individual liability for fulfillment an illegal order – Prof. Giorgi Khubua

Discussion

17:00 Lecture: Presentation “Ethics and code of conduct in civil service of Georgia” – Gvantsa Beselia, Public Service Bureau, coauthor of Codex

Discussion

17:45 Lecture: Ethics of Civil Service - Hans Joachim Rieger, director of the German Union of Public Servants Academy

Discussion

18:30 collation of outcomes